

Dealerlogic Accounting

Double entry bookkeeping doesn't mean you have to enter everything twice.

Why do hundreds of dealers use Dealer Solutions software to run their entire business? It's because our inventory and accounting programs are fully integrated, so every transaction entered into the stock system also updates the general ledger.

Cut data entry in half

If you're running one program to control inventory and then entering the same data again into your financials, we can make your life a lot easier.

Use Dealerlogic with fully integrated accounting and payroll facilities and get rid of the need for separate data entry for ever.

Look at the benefits

- Easily generate a one page daily operations summary report.
- Add a powerful and flexible General Ledger facility to your dealership software.
- Add a full payroll system with capacity for Group Certificates.
- Generate electronic banking files for wages and creditor payments.
- Entries for stock write backs, floor plan and contra transactions are readily available.
- Send remittance advices, invoices, receipts and reports direct to email.
- Be supported with initial in-house training and ongoing phone support.
- And, the big difference, you'll only have to enter data once.
