

Inventory Distribution

Want to jump start your online sales?

Let us hook up the lead generators.

Most dealers use online 'lead generators' to help get their inventory in front of customers. But how do you manage exactly what gets sent and who gets what? Dealer Solutions provides an easy to use online interface to help you manage inventory so you are in control.

We work for you

As we're not in the business of selling advertising space, we simply send the inventory you nominate to where you want it to go. There's no hidden agenda, no extra fees. Our system also ensures the same information is sent to all parties, so you can't be embarrassed by customers finding different information on different sites.

Look at the benefits

- Our system gives you the ability to select, update and control your inventory.
- You control updates and pricing on all inventory distribution.
- Inventory is accepted from all sources in all industry standard formats.
- Single or unlimited destination subscriptions are available.
- We work proactively with lead generators.
- We follow up on issues that might limit your inventory being published successfully.
- Our system constantly tracks your inventory, so we can give you an update at any time.
- Online management tools are available so you can easily enhance or amend advertisements.

We can send your inventory to over 30 lead generators including...
